WE ARE LOOKING FOR...

... a Software QA Manager / Softwaretester (Mobile) for our location in Dresden, Sofia, or Berlin. You will be part of our 3-people Quality Assurance team and support our product teams in doing weekly releases. With your enthusiasm for debugging our mobile apps, internal products, and websites, you apply your existing knowledge of functional and end-to-end testing to help ensure our software products meet our quality standards.

YOUR MISSION WITH US:

- You are a real sleuth and find, analyze and track down every error in our software products, such as in our app Marktjagd. Our mobile test devices are available to you at all times.
- Found a bug? Good job! Now you communicate it internally with our developer and product teams and propose solutions.
- You independently evaluate, document and communicate your test results.
- To make some work easier for all of us, you will write automated tests for our applications together with your team.
- Proactively you contribute to optimize the quality of our products.

THIS IS WHAT YOU BRING ALONG:

- You bring at least 3 years of work experience in manual testing and programming automated tests for apps.
- You are a real team player, inquisitive and want to grow together with us.
- You thrive in an environment characterized by (personal) responsibility & creative freedom, work accordingly independently and are not afraid to ask questions.
- What's the most important thing in QA? Attention to detail!
- For internal communication you speak fluent English, at least on B2 level.
- It would be nice if you already have experience with Appium and JavaScript, but it's not a must.
